On-demand: At-home Learning for NPs, PAs and Physicians

Your time, your pace, your CME

We're getting ready to launch our 2023 series of CME Conferences – the first conference of the year will be in Savannah next month May 1-4 – and just like we've been doing for the past 10 years, we'll provide top-level CME for nurse practitioners, physician assistants and physicians at nine destination locations across the country. And, we'll continue offering three ways to learn – In-person, Virtual, and On-demand, since we know that everyone juggles different scheduling challenges and has different learning styles.

Awareness Month
Turn It Up Foundation Gives Gift of Music to Hard of Hearing

It was World Hearing Day on March 3, an annual global advocacy event for raising awareness regarding hearing loss and promoting ear and hearing care, and calling for action to address hearing loss and related issues. To support the day throughout the year, the World Health Organization (WHO) provides a wide array of evergreen educational and resource materials, including materials on ear health and care, advocacy and awareness, screening, and rehabilitation materials.
