Awareness Month #WMHD October 10 is World Mental Health Day

World Mental Health Day was observed for the first time on October 10, 1992, and has been commemorated every year since, aiming to “raise awareness in the global community about the critical mental health agendas – with a unifying voice through collaboration with various partners – to take action and to create lasting change.” This year’s October 10, 2022, World Mental Health Day is themed “Make Mental Health & Well-Being for All a Global Priority,” selected as the world continues to reel from the effects of the coronavirus pandemic, wars, displacement, and the climate emergency, all of which have consequences for the well-being of world citizens.
